

TECHNOVANZA

Taking Technology To Society

JAVA GURU

Among Us ft. Breaking Bad

US Department of Justice
Drug Enforcement Administration
Miami Field Division
2100 North Commerce Parkway
Weston, Florida 33326

Confidential letter to Hank Schrader (Chief of DEA)

To
Hank Schrader,
Chief of DEA.

Subject : Anonymous tip on the identity of Heisenberg and his Partner.

Many congrats on catching Gale Boeticcher, but I am afraid we have a tip from an anonymous informant which states that we have a lead behind the true dealer of blue methamphetamine, his name is Heisenberg and we are very close to disclosing his identity.

You need to recruit a team of computer programmers who will help you to find Heisenberg and his partner Pinkman.

You know how important this is, Mr. Schrader.

Introduction

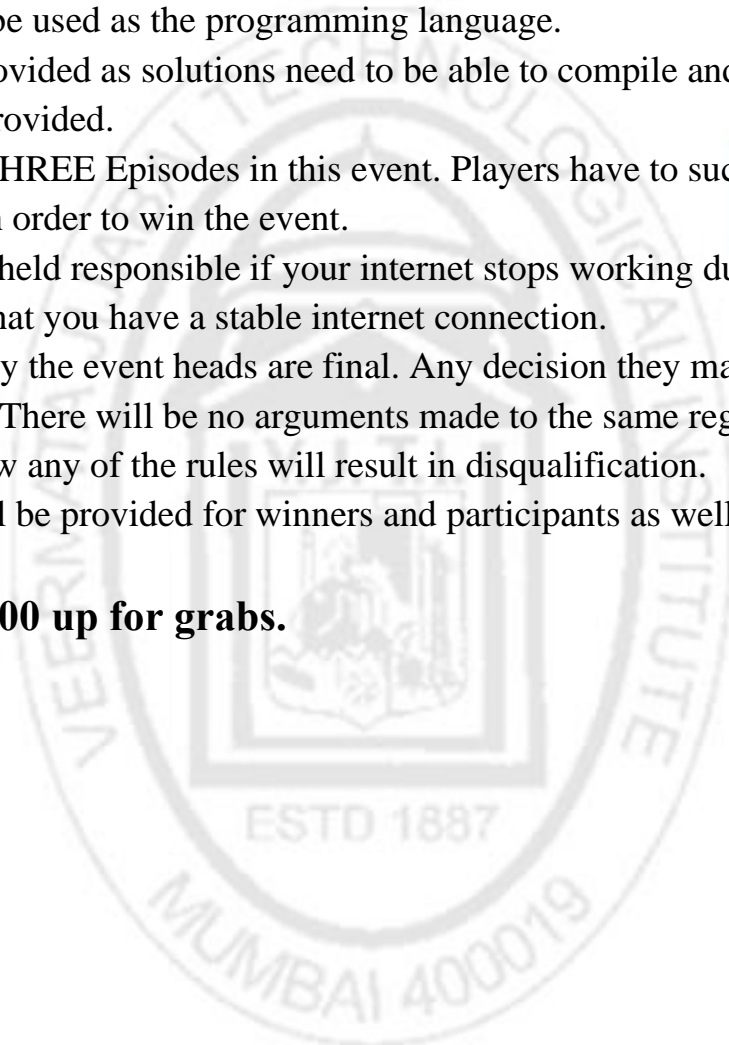

Welcome to Java Guru, as you can see Mr. Schrader is recruiting a team of programmers, to find a drug kingpin named Heisenberg and his partner Pinkman. Can you help Mr. Schrader with your seasoned knowledge in Java?

Guidelines

1. You have to participate in this event individually. Group participation is not allowed.
2. Only Java can be used as the programming language.
3. All the code provided as solutions need to be able to compile and run according to the questions provided.
4. There will be THREE Episodes in this event. Players have to successfully complete all the 3 Acts in order to win the event.
5. We will not be held responsible if your internet stops working during a round. Please ensure that you have a stable internet connection.
6. The rules laid by the event heads are final. Any decision they make will be binding and will apply. There will be no arguments made to the same regard.
7. Failure to follow any of the rules will result in disqualification.
8. Certificates will be provided for winners and participants as well.

Prizes worth ₹ 9,500 up for grabs.

EPISODE 1

“I swear to Christ — I will put you under the jail.”

Hank Schrader is on the edge and hell bent on catching Heisenberg and Pinkman. The recruitment program organised by Hank Schrader is a two-stage program. You all have gathered at the DEA academy for your test. This is the first stage of the program. You have 15 minutes to pass your stage 1 test so that you can proceed to the stage 2 of your recruitment program.

You have to appear for the stage 1 test individually.

The pattern of the test consists of –

- MCQ's
- Riddles
- Find the output.

Only the finest minds will be selected for the next stage of the program.

EPISODE 2

“You clearly don't know who you're dealing with, so let me clue you in.”

Stage 2 of the program will test your programming skills to the next level. Here the selected candidates will be tested on their programming skills.

- You have 30 minutes to solve two problem statements.
- Only selected candidates will proceed to the final showdown to find Heisenberg and Pinkman.
- There will be 100 points allotted to the candidate.
- Hank Schrader will have your back to help you in this event. He can provide you a hint but it will cost you 15 points.
- You will be judged on the basis of performance of the program, time taken, optimization of the code and in hand points of the candidate.

EPISODE 3

“Stay out of my territory.”

We just received the news that there is an imposter among us!

Now that the team is recruited and it is time for the final showdown, we have to catch Heisenberg and Jesse Pinkman before it's too late. This is the last round where each participant will find their alter ego and a plot twist awaits.

- The last round is divided into two parts:
 - Part 1: find out your alter ego from the series.
 - Part 2: consists of the main pursuit of the final showdown.

More information will be provided on the day of the event.

Contact Us

For further enquiries, you can contact:

Rachit Bubna – 8976615842

Tanmay Joshi – 9820108473