

TECHNOVANZA

Taking Technology To Society

VJTI Presents

TECHNOVANZA

2020-21

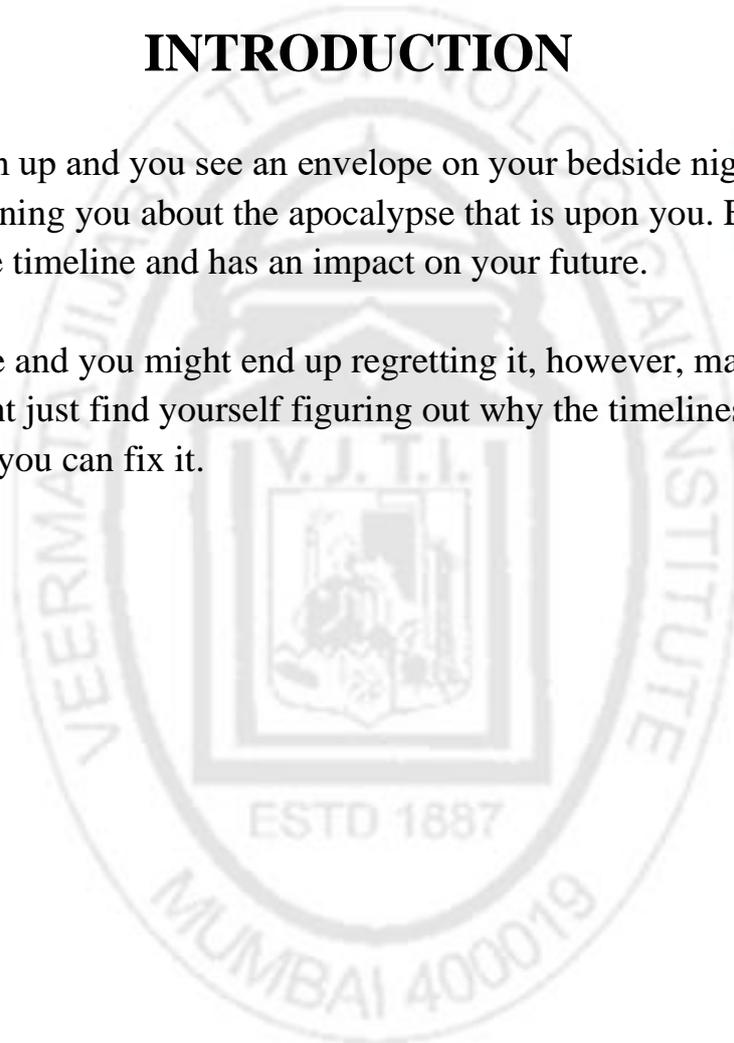

ULTIMATE CODER

Among Us ft. Dark

INTRODUCTION

You have just woken up and you see an envelope on your bedside nightstand. It's from your future self, warning you about the apocalypse that is upon you. Every decision that you make affects the timeline and has an impact on your future.

Take a wrong choice and you might end up regretting it, however, make the correct choice and you might just find yourself figuring out why the timelines have been messed up and how you can fix it.

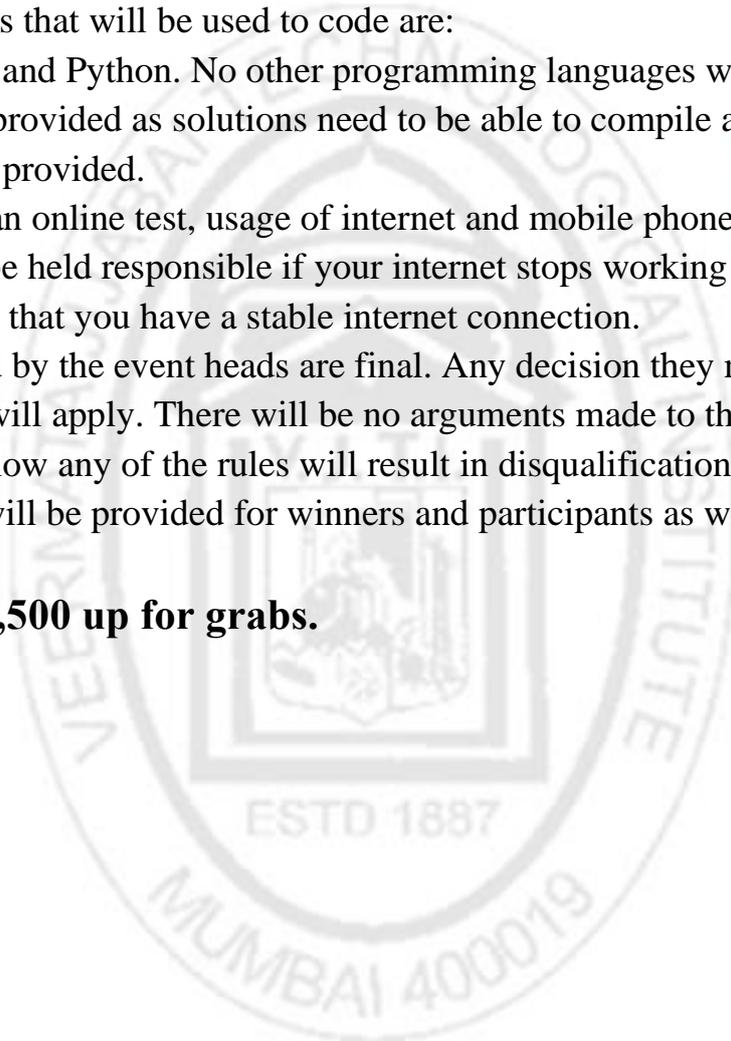

GUIDELINES

1. You may work in a team of two or go alone. A player may be registered to only one team. The person cannot be a part of more than one team.
2. The languages that will be used to code are:
C, C++, Java and Python. No other programming languages will be allowed.
3. All the code provided as solutions need to be able to compile and run according to the questions provided.
4. Since this is an online test, usage of internet and mobile phones will be permitted.
5. We will not be held responsible if your internet stops working during a round. Please ensure that you have a stable internet connection.
6. The rules laid by the event heads are final. Any decision they make will be binding and will apply. There will be no arguments made to the same regard.
7. Failure to follow any of the rules will result in disqualification.
8. Certificates will be provided for winners and participants as well.

Prizes worth ₹ 9,500 up for grabs.

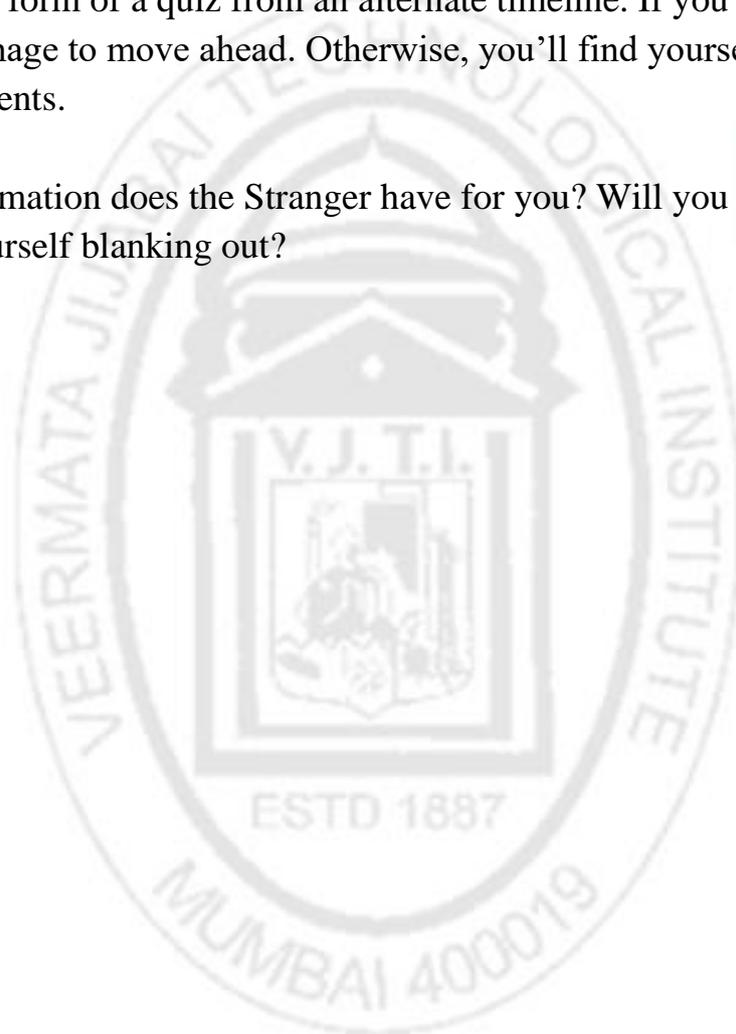

ROUND 1

You have just left your house and are set to change the current cycle of events in order to stop the apocalypse. You face your first challenge in the face of a quiz when help comes to you in the form of a quiz from an alternate timeline. If you are able to solve the quiz, you'll manage to move ahead. Otherwise, you'll find yourself stuck unable to stop the cycle of events.

What piece of information does the Stranger have for you? Will you manage to solve it or will you find yourself blanking out?

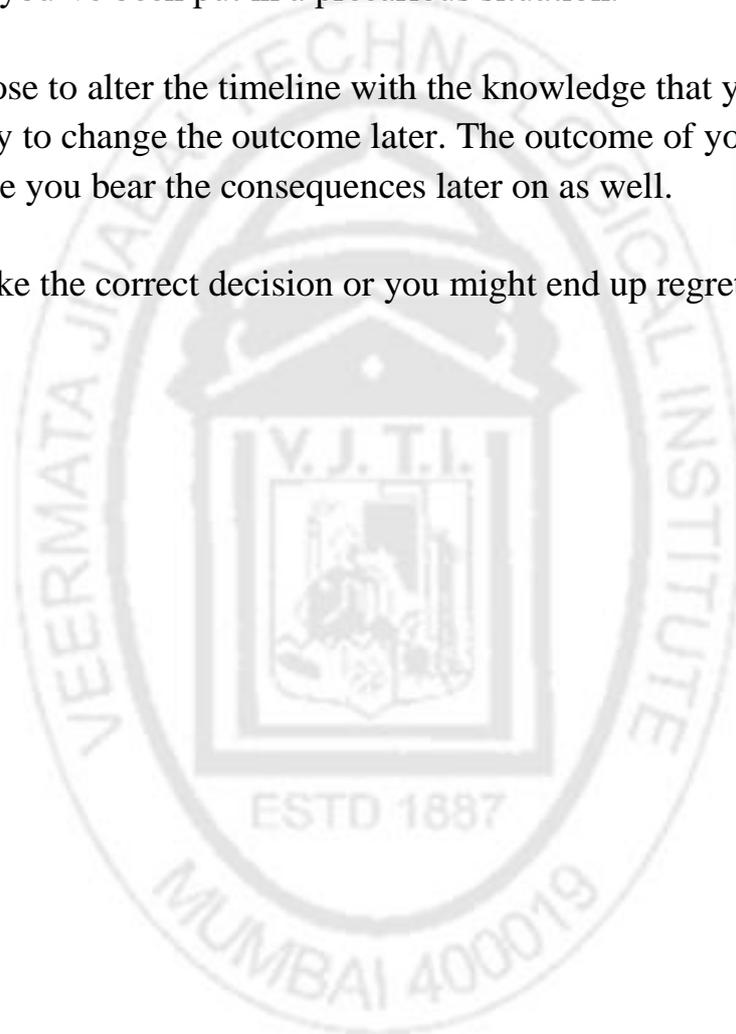

ROUND 2

After you solve the quiz, you find yourself at a fork in the road. A decision that will have a long-lasting impact on your timeline. As you've been getting help from the alternate timelines, you've been put in a precarious situation.

You can either choose to alter the timeline with the knowledge that you have or let it proceed as is and try to change the outcome later. The outcome of your decision is long lasting and will have you bear the consequences later on as well.

Ensure that you make the correct decision or you might end up regretting it.

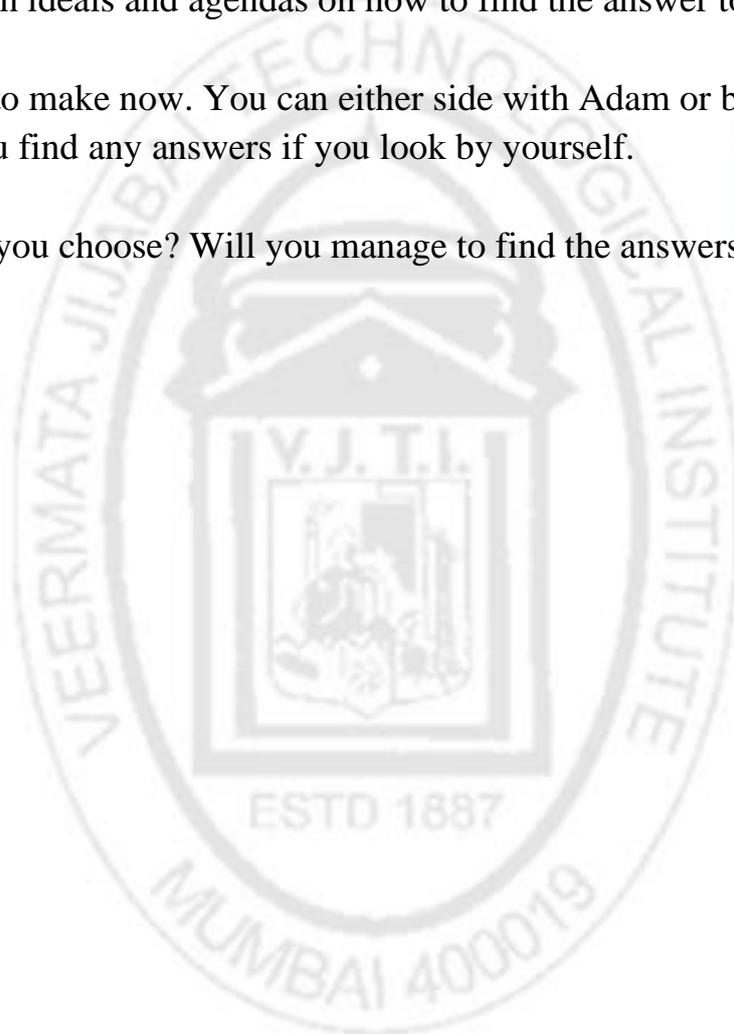

ROUND 3

You come to the realization that you're not the only one who is looking to figure out the mystery behind the timelines. There are two major groups run by Adam and Eve. Each faction has their own ideals and agendas on how to find the answer to the timelines.

You have a choice to make now. You can either side with Adam or band alongside Eve. There is no way you find any answers if you look by yourself.

Which faction will you choose? Will you manage to find the answers you want as you join the group?

ROUND 4

After making the choice between Adam and Eve, you realise that you have finally come to a conclusive point. A word gets thrown around that you don't understand: "Tannenbaum". Figuring it out will help you to finally get some closure on solving the mystery of the timeline.

This is it, the final stand where all the answers will be revealed to you. All that is left is to find out what "Tannenbaum" means and find what answers it holds.

Contact Us

For further enquiries, you can contact:

Aaron Pereira – 7506049314

Saurabh Sawant - 9930459987

